PANORAMA

The Panorama brings to the students and friends of Crestline High School glimpses of its curricular and extra-curricular activities. Consider the Panorama, if you please, as a large and luxurious streamliner, which takes us on a pleasant journey through the portals of C. H. S. and by words and pictures, presents the typical high school activities from the moment the train moves gracefully from the depot until it reaches the long awaited destination, — Commencement—1945."

Wartime Education

We of the class of '45 have gone through high school under abnormal conditions. Scarcely had we started our freshman year than war broke out. From then on our lives were destined to undergo many changes. Boys and girls overnight became men and women. Young people, who never before knew real work, were asked to take part-time jobs in war industries during the school year and full time jobs during the summer.

The crisis of our lives was at hand. Never before had the youth of America been as independent as now. Everyone was making money. Not cents but dollars.

Frequently questions come to our minds. Should one leave school entirely and take a high paying job? Or would one regret all his life that he didn't get an education while at the age to get one? Most of Young America made the wise choice.

As our high school years wore on those ahead of us graduated, and we saw many of these going into the service of our country. Then came the day when some of our own class members reached the military age and left for service before their school days were completely realized. Our classmates of yesterday are the men of today.

What lies ahead of us is known only to the Divine Being. Our future is uncertain, but we as Americans will be able to cope with the situation.

—Robert L. Tracht

Dedication

Merle Hutson

We, the members of the class of '45, would like to dedicate this volume to MERLE HUTSON. "Coach" Hutson, as he is still fondly called, was our adviser upon entering the portals of C.H.S. Now he is fighting for our country somewhere in Europe.

For many years, Merle Hutson served as coach and physical education teacher in Crestline. The profound influence he exerted on the lives of the boys he coached and taught in sports has left its mark today. These boys have gone out into the world better citizens for having come in contact with "Hut." It is to him that we dedicate the second volume of the Panorama.

Annual Staff

The Annual Staff has enjoyed making all the preparations for you to take this eventful journey. Every thing possible was done to see that the Panorama would come in "on schedule." Deadlines came quickly, for many problems had to be met this year. In every phase of work—engraving, photography, advertising, distribution, binding—important decisions had to be made. This Annual could not have been a reality without the generous assistance of our advisors, the faculty, and the students. To all we say "thank you." We sincerely hope you will find much pleasure in this journey through Crestline High School, both now and through the years to come.

Board of Directors

Board of Education

Each month, a board of five civic-minded men, meet in order to manage the financial problems of the school successfully. Among other duties, they hire the teachers, buy the books, and equip the schools properly.

Superintendent R. B. Smith attends the meetings and advises the members on school matters.

The members are elected by popular vote and serve a term of four years. The present members are:

President.....	F. G. Hesser
Vice President.....	T. A. Cox
Clerk.....	F. M. Teeter
	Frank McNeal
	V. V. DeJean

These men are to the school as the members of a board of directors are to a corporation, and so have the best interests of the school at heart in all they do.

Passengers on the Panorama realize that much of the success of their journey is due to the endeavors of their "board of directors."

TRAIN NUMBER

SEPTEMBER SPECIAL

- 5 First day of school.
- 13 Senior class elects officers.
- 14 Bill Light leaves for Army. Hitler terrified.
- 15 First football game of season—Mt. Gilead. Also first dance of the year
- 20 Four senior girls paint sidewalks of Galion High.
- 21 Galion students paint the sidewalks of Crestline High.
- 22 The members of the senior civic classes are entertained with a test by Mr. Remy. A gruesome time is had by all.

OCTOBER BLAZER

- 3 Wine, Clyde, and Ernie have an eraser fight in English Literature.
- 10 Dusty Rhodes correctly answers question in Civics. The amazing rendition was a detailed "YES."
- 11 Prominent peroxide streaks are seen in hair of three senior girls.
- 23 Lumbago downs Mr. Remy. A cane and easy chair are quickly provided so that civics may go on.
- 29 John Hurson spends the day at school.

NOVEMBER LIMITED

- 3 Homecoming Game and Dance.
- 7 Election day. Roosevelt for a fourth term. Blues for Klop. (But not for "Chief.")
- 10 First school assembly of the year.
- 22-27 Thanksgiving Vacation. James Granger sidetracks from Buck Roger drawings to a gorgeous stuffed turkey.
- 29 Seniors lose pet "St. Bernard." Kloppey gets a haircut.
- 30 First snow of season. Civics classes have snow ball fights.

DECEMBER TRIANGLE

- 5 Sixteen senior girls absent. Remy "blows top."
- 12 School dismissed because of extreme cold weather. Seniors all go sled-ding.
- 13 Big day for Patt Thomas. Telegram arrives from her "big moment" in the Navy.
- 14 Watrous and Hoffman pass Navy exams.
- 20 Annual A capella Choir Christmas Concert.
- 21 Kay and Nolder disturb civics class while "Chief" blushes.
- 22 Last day of school before vacation. Seniors debate whether or not to tell Jimmie Obermiller there is no Santa Claus.

JANUARY EXPRESS

- 2 Return to school.
- 3 School dismissed because of cold weather until further notice.
- 8 Further notice.
- 9 Kay and Nolder still disturbing civics class.
- 15 Pictures taken for Annual.
- 16 Kay and Nolder are no longer disturbing the civics class. We wonder why!
- 19 Devito brings proofs of Annual pictures. County Health Nurse on hand for hysterical cases.
- 26 Nookie Suppon buys imported mother-of-pearl tooth.

Timetable

FEBRUARY ARROW

- 5 Calamity in orchestra. "Smitty's" giggle finally spells disaster, as it causes her to swallow her clarinet reed.
- 9. "Tarzan" Crowell makes debut as C.H.S. "swonderful" dancer.
- 10 Word received from Hollywood that Fred Astaire retires.
- 14 Valentine's Day. Love fills the air. Cupid gathers his arrows . . . s-l-o-w-l-y he turns . . . step by step . . . inch by inch . . . BOING! (No such luck. Didn't hit a single senior boy.)
- 16 Mick, Hipsher, Stiffler, and Arter encounter "minor difficulties" enroute to Mt. Gilead. (Question of the week: How did a Mouse get in the maternity ward?)
- 21 Senior class party.
- 28 Yvonne almost has apoplexy because she didn't get a letter. When interviewed she said, "The postman must have made a mistake."

MARCH LION

- 3 "Jock" Emerick on nightly prowls overhears Sebring remark, "It's the little things in life that tell" as she yanks kid sister Alice out from under the sofa.
- 9 Big turnout at school dance. When Tracht asks Emma Louise if he can see her home, she replies she'll send him a picture of it.
- 12 Physics class motto is chosen, 'Remember, Einstein flunked Mathamatics!'
- 16 Phyl Shearer burns cake in Home Ec. As smoke rushes from the oven door she insists the receipe says it doesn't come out for five more minutes.
- 20 With hints of spring, we see new romances blossoming, as well as dandelions.
- 27 Gehrisch sprains shoulder. Says he did it cranking his Ford—we wonder!
- 29 Assembly. Spring vacation begins.
- 31 Morning English class is served breakfast. Holcker is rushed to hospital; it seems the shock of breakfast was too much for her.

APRIL CHIEF

- 6 A Cappella Choir goes to festival at Upper Sandusky.
- 13 Donald Haering offers solution to phenomenon of why flies can't see—they leave their specs on the walls.
- 20 Ramsey speaks to student assembly. Also orchestra festival in Bucyrus.
- 24 When Enoch asks Ginger what a poly-gon is, she quickly retorts, "a dead parrot."
- 27 Girl Reserve Sweetheart Party.

MAY FLYER

- 2 Waldbauer entertains with a formal dinner party. He wears long pants.
- 4 Band Festival in Galion.
- 10 Reception. Boys turn up with new suits—wonderful what they're doing with burlap these days.
- 6-11 Music Week. Absent minded Poth arrives late for one concert. It seems he rolled under the dresser and waited for his collar button to find him.
- 18 Kids Day. O'Heron looks natural.
- 20 Baccalaureate Service.
- 21-22..Senior Recital.
- 25 Commencement.

"Next stop,—'Commencement'." As the conductor moves through the train calling the station, sixty-eight first class passengers begin to take inventory of their belongings, — Knowledge, Fellowship, Pleasant Memories—and bid farewell to their fellow passengers who gave still a while to travel. They have reached the end of their journey and find that they are somewhat reluctant to leave the train which they have come to know so well. Reminiscing, they think of the day they first boarded the train as enthusiastic Freshmen with their chosen leaders — President, William Watrous, Vice President, Jo Ann Holcker, and Sec'y-Treasurer, Helen Ball. Eagerly they awaited each new event. The second lap of the journey as Sophomores, with their officers, President, Robert Nolder, Vice President, Herbert Klopfenstein, Sec'y-Treasurer, William Mayer, found them earning money by selling tickets for a Classical League Group sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, and enjoying several class parties.

As Juniors they successfully undertook the traditional task of a Junior-Senior Banquet and Reception, with Doris Hagan as President, Clyde Emerick, Vice President, and Julia Baldasare, Sec'y-Treasurer. Then as Seniors they anticipated the most important activities of their school years. They elected their officers, President, Herbert Klopfenstein, Vice President, Robert Tracht, and Sec'y-Treasurer, Betty Smith. Quickly the year passed. Class parties, Junior-Senior Reception, Kid's Day, Senior Recital, and Baccalaureate were soon memories. And now as the long awaited destination comes into view, these sixty-eight young men and women say a last farewell to the "Panorama" and Crestline High School, and look forward to the even longer journey—the future.

Senior Class Prophecy

Bombay, India
May 25, 1955

Dear Bob,

How's everything back in the good old U. S.? It seems a long time since I left the states. It doesn't seem possible that I've been president of the Bombay Railroad for five years. But just think we graduated ten years ago this month. Boy, that's a long time!

I was sitting with Maxine talking over some of the good times we used to have. We laughed over all the trouble I had persuading Mr. Rish to let us get married. We don't get to see many of the old class over here, although JACK POST did drop in on us the other day. He was here on business for the World Airlines, he is their chief engineer. Oh, I almost forgot, the three school teachers of our class paid us a visit. VERNA REA SKIDMORE, BARBARA BECK, and CHARLOTTE BROBST were on a round the world cruise. They were all thrilled since the dashing millionaire playboy, JOHN WILLRATH, was to meet them in Rome.

Well, I guess this is all for now. I hope you have some news on the where-a-bouts of some of our former classmates.

Sincerely yours,

KLOP

New York, N.Y.
June 1, 1955

Hello Klop,

Your letter surely was a surprise. I just arrived back from a week's vacation at Crestline, it certainly was nice to get back to the old home town. No dirt anymore, since they use electric engines. The new superintendent, of the P.R.R., CLYDE EMERICK, brought this about. The hottess on the plane was PAULA BOWEN. When I arrived at Crestline's new airport, JIM GRANGER came bounding up to meet me. He, in his official capacity as mayor, was the welcoming committee along with his secretary, NORMA GILCHRIST.

At the gate was one of the fleet of cabs operated by HOWARD RHODES. In the drivers seat was none other than ERNEST PETER BOPP. He was sent by the "Class of 45' Alumni Association" to show me around the town. Our first stop was the Public Library where DORIS HAGAN was in charge. She invited me out for dinner to see JOHN HURSON; her husband, and the three little Hursons.

Our next stop was the new hospital. LOIS NISWANDER, Supervisor of Nurses, showed me through the spacious structure. This was of special interest since this is also my own field. Lois took me to the office of the Chief-of-staff, however, she was out. But the office girl SHIRLEY LACEY, told me her boss, BARBARA JENKINS, was in surgery. While we were talking another nurse, MAXINE ADAMS, came in to say hello.

On leaving the hospital Ernie took me through the business district of Crestline. Our first stop there was at the Holcker Hardware, where JO ANN HOLCKER was in charge while her parents were on a vacation. Down the street farther we went into the Economy Meat Market where the proprietor, DOROTHY STANOVICH, was giving one of her clerk's a calling down. It turned out that the clerk was MARCIA LESSEUER, who after ten years of wedding bliss to a Galion gentlewas once again working. As we were leaving the store we ran into another happily wedded couple, BOB HOFFMAN and JULIA BALDASARE. Bob told me that he was working for the railroad along with EARL MICK and JIM GRESMER.

Ernie had to dash home to see his wife, NAOMI SPAYDE, so I walked on down to the Kroger Store. The co-managers, MARY ELLEN BAUER and MARY ELLEN SEEBURGER brought me up to date on a lot of our former friends. MAGARET HUBER, they said, was married to a local farmer. JOE STUMPF was owner of the Consolidated Chicken Farms; YVONNE KINDINGER is still going to college—she has enough degrees to fill a page. DICK CROWELL is still a shoe clerk; DICK GEHRISCH and CHARLES POTH are still employed by the mail service. JIM OBERMILLER and MARY LOU O'HERON are still cooing at each other even though they are married. It seems as though the love bug was busy for a while as PHYLLIS SHEARER is the wife of Roy Sharp. A couple more members of '45 who are married are DORIS COUNTERMAN and KAY FORMAN.

It was getting close to noon so I bid the girls goodbye and made my way to the Roxy. There DONALD HAERING was the big shot. Just as I was about to order, BETTY ANN SMITH came in. She is the local music teacher and was able to give me some more dope on some of our friends. She told me that BOB NOLDER was head coach at U.C.L.A. BILL MAYER is the local barber; BILL WATROUS is the head of a chain of gasoline stations. DON WINEMILLER is a commercial artist; his secretary is TWILA HODLE. NILA HODLE and MARIE PFEIFFER are running a business school at Chicago. Betty went on to say that EMMA L. WILL was nursing in a private hospital near Cleveland; GERALDINE.. WALKER.. and.. MARGARET PELIKAN are both private stenos to BOB WALBAUER, who is general manager of the Burch Corporation. Also employed at Burch's are DANNY SNYDER and HAROLD BLUM.

Betty pointed across the street as we were leaving the Roxy. There in the building formerly occupied by Douglas's was SUPPON'S JIVE HUT. The high-school gang now has someplace to dance at last, thanks to NOOKIE. PATT THOMAS, I discovered, was a dress designer for the exclusive dress shop run by VIRGINIA LIGHTBURN. BILL LIGHT, it seems, is still in the Army; he is commanding general of the Fifth Army Corp. While you probably know that DOROTHY McCARTHY is Miss America of 1955. MARIE SPELL, it seems, is working in California along with LOIS SIMMER-MACHER.

I almost forget that MARY LOU SEBRING is the hostess at the STORK CLUB here in New York. MARTHA METZ is the featured vocalist with Ferrel Hunt's band. Well, I guess that takes care of every one in our class. I hope that sometime in the near future we can all get together.

As ever,
Bob,

—Robert L. Tracht

Class Song

(To the melody of "I'll Be Seeing You")

We must bid farewell to all the kind and smiling faces,
With sad hearts the tears leave traces as we part,
With thoughts of days to come, a song or two we'll hum,
The years too soon have passed, the memories of our senior class;
We must say so-long to everyone we love so well,
Those golden hours, those dreams of yore, we'll always live our school days o'er.
Our teachers kind we leave behind, it's hard to say adieu,
We are happy that we had, the joy of knowing you.

Juniors

Before starting on the last lap of their journey through C.H.S. the Juniors are found studying the Panorama Timetable. Excitement shows on their anxious faces as they are beginning to realize that they are coming closer to their destination and that too soon they will be the first class passengers on this ever-speeding train.

The earlier years of their journey were under the supervision of the freshmen officers, President, Tom Arter; Vice-president, Marilyn Oliphant; Secretary-treasurer, Joan Bertsche and the sophomore officers, President, Jeanne Sand; Vice-president, Nancy Neff; Secretary-treasurer, Joan Bertsche. Experience has taught them through their scavenger hunt, Hallowe'en party, and their plans for the Annual Junior-Senior Reception that the journey is often a very pleasant one and that they have much for which to look forward in the coming year. Those chosen to lead them through this very important year are Marilyn Oliphant, President; Jack Helfrich, Vice-president; Martha Jones, Secretary-treasurer. These officers are ably assisted by Miss Faye Greibling and Mr. A. T. Enoch, who act as class advisors.

Bidding a fond farewell and the best of luck to the Seniors, the Juniors, excited though they may be, return rather dejectedly to their private car where they will remain until they too have reached that goal which they have been striving for these many years.

Sophomores

After one year of experience in the hustle and bustle of the Panoramic journey, the class of '47 has successfully completed their second year under the direction of their officers, President Joan Guinip, Secretary Rose Zara, and Treasurer Jackie Hodgson. With the aid of their advisors, Mrs. Earl Hetrick, Mrs. Myron Millar, and Mr. K. I. Lea, a Valentine party was enjoyed by the eighty members of the class. In recalling past events we must not forget to mention the capable officers of this group in their Freshman year. They were President Mary McCaffrey, Vice President Jack Malaby, Secretary Barbara Smith, Treasurer Dick Miller. Proudly the Sophomores look back upon a year that has completed the first half of the way to their destination.

Freshmen

Small but mighty is this group of passengers who are starting out on the first lap of the long journey through Crestline High School! We're referring to the Freshmen who are really off on the right train. You see they already have chalked up a Hallowe'en party and a scavenger hunt so far this year. Leading this happy group are two charming advisors, none other than Miss Elizabeth O'Leary and Miss Cora Cover. And, of course, we must not forget the class officers—President, Jean Rhodus; Vice-President, Bill Bletz; Secretary, Harry Arter, and Treasurer, Shirley Horton. The older passengers all wish you good luck on your journey!

1944 Football Season

Our first view as we enter "Sportstown" is the 1944 football season which began with Mr. Remy, Mr. Flynn and a few former football players of Crestline pinch-hitting for a coach.

Practice started September fifth, just ten days before the first game. Two days later Charles C. Imel, formerly of Kenyon College and the Case School of Applied Science, was hired as coach. A very experienced man in football, "Chuck" Imel did his best to whip the team in shape to meet the first opponent, Mt. Gilead, the only team that Crestline defeated during the entire season. After the first game Crestline was not so fortunate, losing to Galion, Marion St. Marys, Upper Sandusky, Tiffin Calvert, and Shelby. The next game, Willard, ending in a scoreless tie, proved to be the best display of football played by the C.H.S. team during the entire season. The homecoming game was dropped to Madison High. Crestline lost the last game of the season to Bucyrus on a muddy field. Thus ended another chapter in Crestline's football history, and the Panorama passes on the next seasonal sport.

Homecoming Queen

Each year the last home football game is "Homecoming." The football team elects a homecoming queen and two attendants. The honor this past fall was bestowed upon Dorothy McCarthy. Her attendants were Doris Hagan and Paula Bowen.

Cheerleaders

The past year three sophomore girls had the honor of leading the C. H. S. fans in the various cheers at sport events.

Basketball

Our second view of Sportstown is the indoor sport of basketball. Just one week after the completion of the football season, Coach Imel started drilling the boys in fundamentals of basketball. There was a definite lack of seasoned material, with no lettermen on the squad. Many long hours were spent getting ready for the first game. This was a victory over neighboring Leesville. A defeat at the hands of Bucyrus; and a win over Willard was followed by a six week slump. With the Imelmen losing to Upper Sandusky, Galion, Mt. Vernon, Madison, and Shelby.

Excitement ran wild the closing minutes of the Shelby game, when Crestline made a last desperate attempt to win. Two wins over Mt. Gilead, one on their floor which was the first in eight years, wound up Crestline's victories. Losses to Galion, Bellevue, Upper Sandusky, Marion St. Marys, Shelby, and Bucyrus rounded up the season.

As we leave Sportstown and enter the rural areas, we come in sight of the Future Farmers of America, better known as the F. F. A. A part of a national organization, the local chapter comprises in its membership the entire Vocational Agriculture class.

The ideals or characteristics of the organization are expressed in what they call the "Four Stepping Stones," leadership, scholarship, thrift, and farming ability.

As an organization they are very active. The annual Pest Hunt competition between Ontario and Crestline was won again this year by the local boys.

The winners are always feted by the losers at a banquet. The annual initiation of new members is always a joint affair between the two groups.

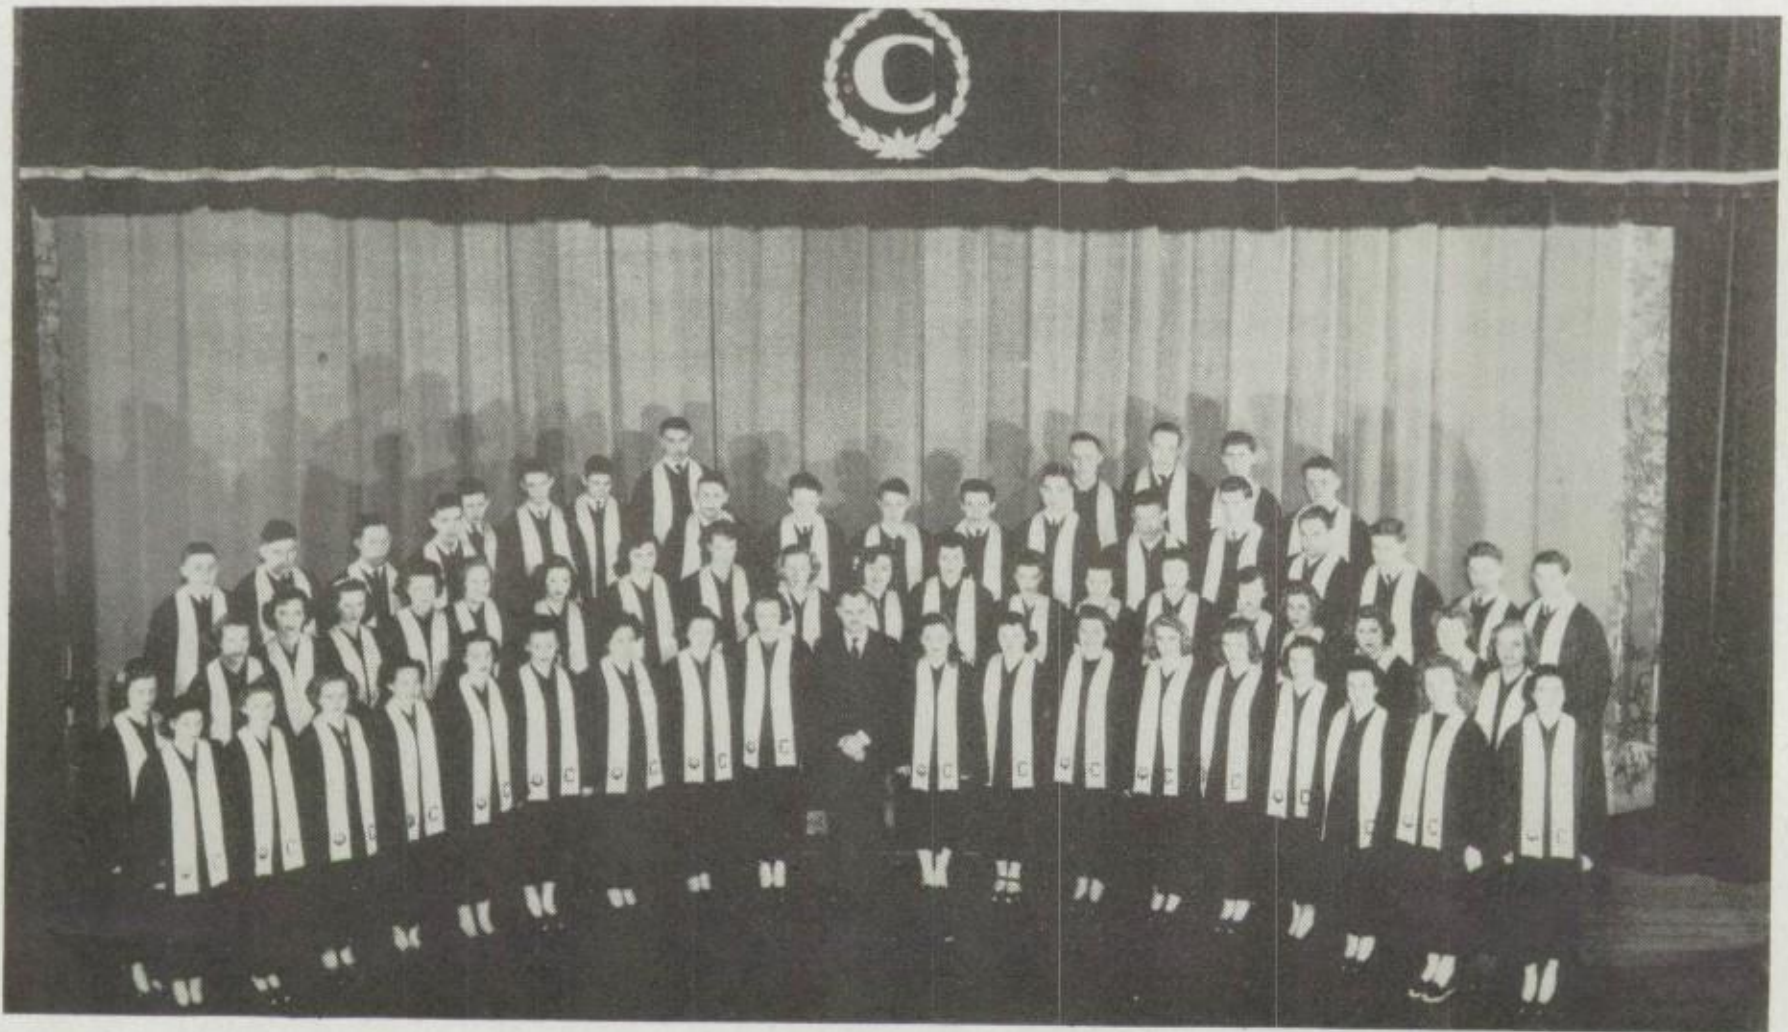

This year the group undertook to repair the fence surrounding the football field. In addition they built a tackling dummy for the use of the squad.

At Christmas time this group donated chickens to the Service Center. The officers of the F. F. A. are:

A Cappella Choir

Glancing out the spacious windows of the Panorama Observation car we see we are approaching a colorful little town. Upon questioning the conductor we learn that it is "Musicville." The town is divided into three main sections—the first of which is devoted to the A cappella Choir.

The C.H.S. A Cappella choir under the direction of Maurice Davis is in its seventh year. It was originally organized with fifty members, and each year since, its membership has been kept between sixty-five and seventy members.

A Christmas Concert is always given by the choir. Before the war, the choir made an annual trip to the Capital University Choir Festival at Columbus. If plans mature, the trip will be made this year. One year the choir was accorded the honor of broadcasting from Columbus, an honor which is given only to the top three choirs.

The choir has always been active in festivals held in this part of the country, as well as taking part in civil programs. A program is always given during National Music Week.

The choir is organized with Donald Winemiller as president, Mary Ellen Seeburger as vice-president. Bob Nolder is business manager.

Orchestra

The second district in Musicville is the cultured section devoted to the orchestra.

The First Crestline High School Orchestra, consisting of five pieces, was organized by Dr. Russel B. Smith in 1919. Townspeople helped to get the orchestra started, since their services were much in demand. They also aided in supporting themselves in these early days. Gradually they began to get more school people interested and after three or four years they purchased three string basses, two violins, and the music racks which are still in use.

In 1926, when Mr. Davis took over, the orchestra started taking part in out-

-of-town concerts and in 1931 they won the state championship in Class B. They placed fourth in the national contest.

They played accompaniments for oratorios, giving once the Mendelssohn Concerto for Violin, and several times various piano concertos. A concert, in the orchestra, as in the choir, is always presented during National Music Week.

The orchestra participated in numerous festivals throughout this vicinity.

Clyde Emerick is president of the organization, assisted by Tom Strauch. Joan Bertsche is student director.

Band

As we pass through the third section of this active little town, we find the C. H. S. Band.

In 1924, Mr. Remy persuaded a group of students to play for a carnival. They enjoyed playing so much that through the help of local merchants, the first band was organized.

Mr. Maurice Davis took over in 1926, and reorganized the band, consisting of twelve pieces. At the time, white uniforms were worn. The following year black coats were added, an ensemble which they wore for seven years.

The band has always been active in out of town festivals and local affairs and patriotic celebrations are augmented by the band. A concert is always given during National Music Week.

The band owes its success principally to Maurice Davis, who spent eighteen years making it an educational and successful organization. The business end is cared for by Jo Ann Holcker assisted by Charlotte Brobst. Jack Post and Robert Waldbauer are student directors.

Entering this fine reserved car "The Advocate Staff" we find a praise worthy group of passengers on their way to a banquet to celebrate their twentieth anniversary. Yes, exactly twenty years ago the organization of the C.H.S. Advocate was started, and it has been functioning ever since under the able guidance of one of the faculty members, who this year is none other than Mrs. Millar. The Editor-in-Chief and also Sports Editor is Bob Tracht while the Who's Who writer is Patt Thomas. There are quite a few star reporters—Maxine Adams, Kay Forman, Mary Lou O'Heron, Nancy Neff, Helen Norris, Ruth Paynter, and Pam Guinip. And, of course, we must not forget the cub reporters who are Billie Jean Snyder, Elsie Klaesi, Virginia Beeman, Bessie Fortney, and Jackie Hodgson.

Girl Reserves

In the "Girl Reserve" car we find a group of fine young women and while talking with them we learn of the history of their organization. The Girl Reserve Club was first organized in Crestline High School twenty-two years ago with Miss Freada Miller as advisor. At that time there were approximately thirty members. In 1934 Miss Cora Cover and Miss Freada Stone (Mrs. A. T. Enoch) became advisors. Other advisors in the past have been Miss Clara Helfrich (Mrs. Wendell Gates) and Miss Eleonore Iman (Mrs. Donald Dewald). The membership of the organization has increased to the present enrollment of seventy members, the largest in its history.

The Girl Reserve Club is a branch of the Young Women's Christian Association and has for its insignia the blue triangle representing knowledge, health, and spirit. The profound influence exerted over the girls of this organization by its ideal and principles is equalled only by the constancy and diligence of the leaders who have served as counselors.

The only purely honorary society in existence at C.H.S. is the National Honor Society.

To be eligible for membership a pupil must have spent one year in the school electing such pupil. Membership is based on leadership, scholarship, character, and service. The faculty are the only ones who may vote a student into the organization.

Once in the Junior year and twice in the Senior year, members are chosen. It is from this, these erstwhile qualities, that good leaders and citizens of the future are produced. Not only promoting these qualities among themselves but spreading them among their fellow men, is the aim of the society.

The motto of the organization is Nobless Oblige, Colors, white and gold, and the flower, Marguerite.

Latin Club

They have enjoyed a Christmas Party and a Valentine Party, and have also presented a play before the student assembly. Through the splendid leadership of their worthy advisor, Miss Faye Griebeling, the group has developed a genuine interest in the classics, and has endeavored to follow the fundamental purpose of the league which is stated clearly in their creed:

"The members of the Junior Classical League covenant to hand on the torch of classical civilization in the modern world. They believe an acquaintance with the civilization of Greece and Rome will help them understand and appraise the world of today which is indebted to ancient civilization in its governments, law, literatures, languages, and arts." Moving into the next car, "The Latin Club," we find a newly organized group of young people. To lead them in their first year they have chosen as President, Mary McCaffrey; Vice President, Mary Ann Mayer; and Secretary-Treasurer, Dorothy Linn. The Crestline High School Latin Club is a chapter of the Junior Classical League, a national organization which was founded in the fall of 1936. Although each chapter acts as a separate entity, they differ from many school clubs in that they are part of a national movement and are thus in a position to act in a liaison capacity between the study body, the administration, and the general public. The C.H.S. Latin Club this year has been quite active.

Our Stockholders

We would like to take this opportunity to thank the merchants of Crestline for the splendid response they gave us with their advertising. We are sorry indeed that we did not have space to include more of them.

Our thanks also to the citizens of Crestline, as well as the students and faculty of C.H.S. who have helped make this annual possible by their subscriptions and generous response to BOOSTER sales.
